

Web Device Discovery Application

The Microflex Wireless Series

The MXW Audio Network Interface (MXWANI4, MXWANI8) is a part of the Microflex Wireless Series (MXW) by Shure. MXW provides a complete microphone solution for flexible meeting rooms and boardrooms.

Control Software for Device Management

The MXW Series includes control software that enables comprehensive system management from a computer. The control software is hosted on an embedded web-server in the device and can be accessed by any computer connected to the network. To open the software, you must use the Shure Web Device Discovery application.

Shure Web Device Discovery Application

The Shure Web Device Discovery application finds all Shure devices on the network that feature a web-based control software. This application can be found at the following locations:

- MXW System USB Drive: This USB drive is supplied with the MXW Access Point Transceiver. The USB drive also contains the full MXW Series user manual.
- Shure Website: Visit www.shure.com to download the latest version of the application and user manuals for all Shure products.

